LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Rustburg High School of 1953, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do hereby make and publish our last will and testament and do declare all other wills, heretofore made, null and void.

I. In General

To the Juniors, we leave our movable seats and the smelly Senior room.

To the school, we leave our clock and hope good care will continue to be given it.

We leave to everyone memories of us.

II. Faculty

To Mr. Hodge, we leave dreams of a wonderful geometry class and a new school.

To Mrs. Martin, we leave you love and appreciation for things you have done for us.

A history IV class seated in alphabetical order is what we leave Mrs. Wilson.

Mr. Garbee, we leave you memories of Calvin Adkins.

To Mrs. Riegel, we leave a Home Ec. class which is never hungry.

To Mr. Campbell, the Senior class leaves another paint brush to go with the one he lent us for the Senior play.

By Special Request

June Talley wishes to leave to Lenore Franklin her job as librarian of the glee club and hopes she can keep the music straight.

Kathleen Elliott, Elizabeth Elliott wishes to leave to you her ability to get along with Mrs. Reigel.

C. B. Moore wills half of that cute little giggle in English class to Paul Wingfield, but he wants to keep the other half for future use.

Toby Harris leaves to Pat Taylor her talent to be forever talking in class. Pat doesn't need this, of course, but Toby has no further use for it, either.

To BoBo Goff, Jimmy Thompson wills his ability to always get along with Mr. Hodge.

Robert Peake, Buster Williams wants you to have his luck in getting along with state troopers.

Billy Lawrence leaves to Barry Blankinship his muscle building formula.

To Nancy Allcock, Betty Taylor leaves her ability to get along with a certain bus driver and hopes she uses it.

Nell Smith wants to leave her bashful ways to Lewis Cowart hoping that he will use it.

Alease Wright leaves to Pat Booth her calm quiet manner.

Calvin Adkins wills to Jimmy Wood all those wonderful grades in geometry.

Rosa Goff leaves to Phyllis Robertson all those "free driving lessons."

Peggy Jennings leaves to any girl in high school her love for the airport and airplanes.

Ben Driskell, Gary Cheatham wills you his bus route.

To Lewis Cowart, Ed Trent wills his height and hopes it comes in handy in his basketball games.

Jeanette Puckette wills to Rosalie Gear her job of selling lunch tickets.

Alice Moore wills her pleasant disposition to Mary Ellen Droog.

Carol Phillips leaves her job as Rustburg High School Taxi driver to Buddy Steppe.

To Mary Ida Talley, Annie Cyrus leaves her ability to attract men on tractors.

Her ability to type well is what Grey Simmons wants Peggy Foster to have.

Gladys Lindsay leaves her ability to have full week-ends to Ethel Pat Wright.

To Shirley Neighbors, Betty Riley leaves her ability to dance well.

Lois Lee leaves her hatred of men to Nancy Wheeler.

Harry Mitchell leaves to Gene Neighbors his quiet but friendly manner and hopes he uses it.

His job as school patrolman is what Harry Farris wants Freddie Keese to have.

To Dale Talley, Elizabeth Tanner leaves her happy-go-lucky way.

Marie Tanner wills to Judy Kaye Martin her ability to attract cadets.

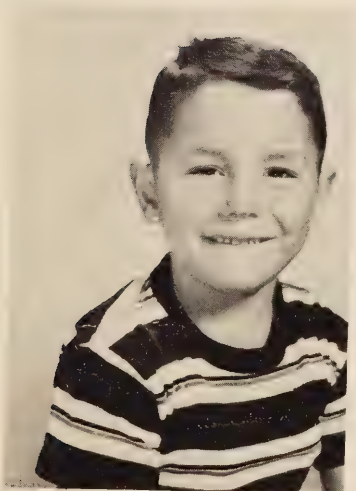

We hereby appoint Addie Lee of the class of '54, executor of this last will and testament, with full power and authority, having perfect confidence in her sound judgment.

In the fall of '49, thirty-seven noisy Freshmen ran up the steps to their first year in high school. Under the guidance of our homeroom teacher, Mr. Hancock, and Jimmy Thompson, our class president, we chose the gardenia as our class flower, maroon and white, our class colors and "Deeds not Dreams" as our motto. High spots of this year were: Farm Show, May Day, Christmas program and a few freshmen went on the trip to Washington. June came none too soon and we were all ready for our vacation.

September 4, 1951 found thirty-one happy-go-lucky Sophomores at R.H.S. Mrs. Annie Gay Martin was our homeroom teacher and Carol Phillips was elected our class president. Highlights of this year: the Farm Show, Christmas program, May Day and the dance afterwards, F.H.A. and F.F.A. Banquets. June came again and we happily left R.H.S. for another vacation.

September found us back again at R.H.S. as upperclassmen.....Juniors.....with Mrs. Mary Hunter, our homeroom teacher and Marie Tanner our class president. We shall never forget some of the activities of this -- our junior year in high school. A few of them are: Parties given by our room mother, the appointing of Jimmy Thompson as a Page with General Assembly, the Christmas program, the junior play, getting our class rings, May Day and dance, and at last -- the Junior-Senior Banquet and carrying of the Daisy Chain for the Seniors. Though we enjoyed this we also enjoyed the coming of June and the glorious vacation that lay ahead of us.

On September 1, 1952 twenty-seven dignified Seniors were found in Room 12 at R.H.S. Our Sponsor this year was not new to us. We were happy to have with us again this year Mrs. Martin, our Sophomore sponsor. Carol Phillips was elected as our class president. OH, What memories we have of this year in school! Never forgotten memories of our last year at ole R.H.S.! Some were: Senior play, "You'll Die Laughing", Junior-Senior Entertainment, Senior Day, May Day and the dance afterwards, Christmas program, Christmas formal, F.H.A. and F.F.A. Banquet and the publishing of "The Owl". Graduation came and we were glad to get the diploma we had worked eleven years for, but we hated to leave our dear old friends at R.H.S.

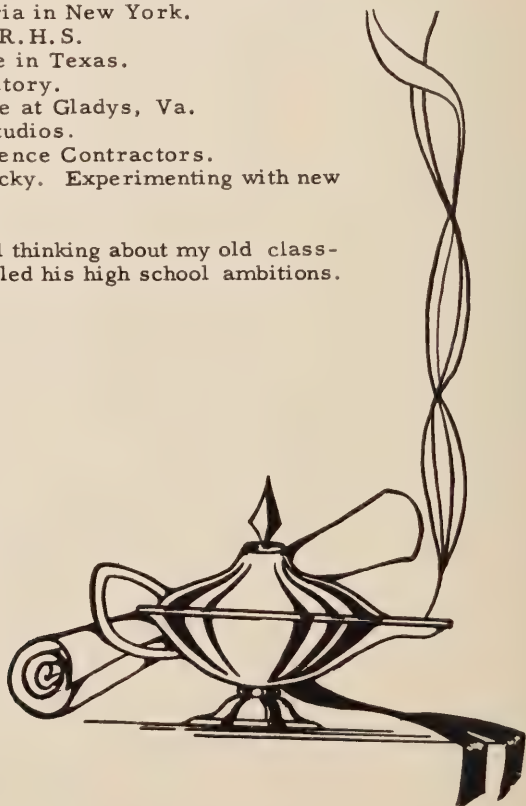

CLASS PROPHECY

I slowly walked through the foggy streets of London. My flight across the Atlantic had just been grounded. Alone and four thousand miles from home was just too much, I thought. The fog had gotten thicker and, after walking several blocks, I was thoroughly chilled. Seeing the lights of a cafe near by, I decided to stop for a cup of tea. I was sitting there thinking about home, when suddenly it dawned upon me---ten years ago I was a senior at Rustburg High. "Wonder what my ole classmates are doing?", I asked myself. Just then, a voice over my shoulder said, "Read your tea leaves, dearie? I can tell you anything you want to know." "Tell me what my classmates at R.H.S. are doing now." Then she began:

Rosa Goff-living on farm at Concord. Learned to milk.
Gladys Lindsay-following husband to Texas who is now general.
Betty Jean Taylor-cute apartment over Ben & Maynard. Finally married the lucky one.
Toby Harris-now exploring James River in her newly acquired yacht.
Nell Smith-Buck and I still going strong.
Gary Cheatham-now a major in U.S. Air Force.
Buster Williams-passed trooper exam. Will be married soon.
Jimmy Thompson-running for governor. Wish me luck.
Peggy Jennings-found the right one. Still a Cardinal fan.
Lois Lee-secretary to mayor of Rustburg. Still town's No. 1 man-hater.
Jeanette Puckette-teaching first grade at Rustburg High School.
Annie Cyrus-still catting around.
Alice Moore-joined the WAF. Still flying high.
Betty Riley-Powers model. Pictures featured in Mademoiselle.
Grey Simmons-chief typist for Lynchburg News.
June Talley-written three books. Best seller-"The Perfect Male".
Alease Wright-now living in Tennessee. Featured on the "Grand Ole Opry."
Marie Tanner-teaching at R.H.S. as an old maid teacher, after being jilted at the altar.
Elizabeth Tanner-dietitian at Waldorf Astoria in New York.
Elizabeth Elliot-teaching Home Ec. at new R.H.S.
Harry Farris-testing jets at Air Force base in Texas.
C. B. Moore-designer of cars in Detroit factory.
Edward Trent-owner of Falling River Estate at Gladys, Va.
Calvin Adkins-sound effects man at MGM Studios.
Billy Lawrence-owner of Lawrence & Lawrence Contractors.
Harry Mitchell-owner of large farm in Kentucky. Experimenting with new kind of tobacco.

After she had finished I sat all alone, still thinking about my old classmates. It seemed that each of them had fulfilled his high school ambitions.

Junior Class History

Buzz! Buzz! Buzz! The noise grew louder as thirty-four excited "bees" hummed into their hive on September 4, 1950. We were glad to have Mr. Thomas as home room teacher. Our president this year was Estelle Leonard. Our colors were blue and white, our flower was the red rose and our motto was "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

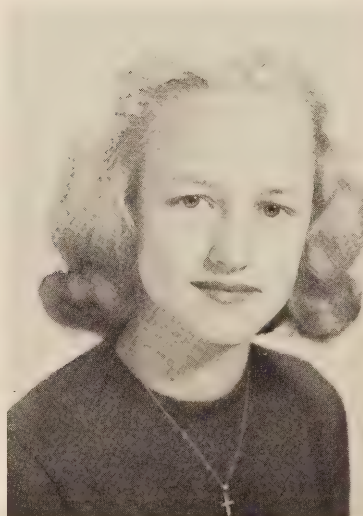

Connie Edelestein and Nancy Wheeler represented our room in May Court.

In the fall of '51 we entered the Sophomore room with Mr. Garbee as homeroom teacher and Barbara Tanner as president. Representatives in the May Court were Mary Ellen Droog and Estelle Leonard.

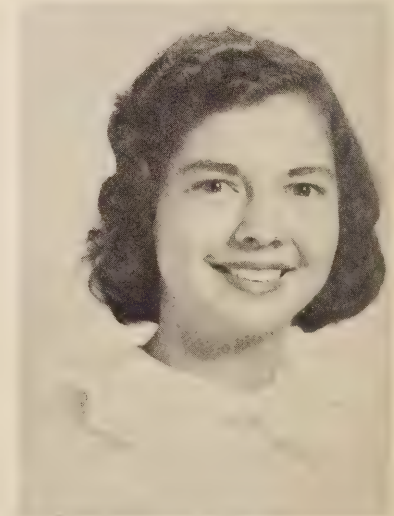

In the fall of '52 we came back to R.H.S. as Juniors. Mr. Garbee was again our homeroom teacher and Gladys Long is president. We are looking forward to becoming Seniors.

In September, 1951, twenty-six noisy boys and girls bounded up the steps to the Freshman room. Mrs. Wilson, our homeroom teacher, quieted us down and we elected Kathleen Elliot as our president. We chose as our motto; "Not for one's self, but for others"; as our flower, the yellow rose; and colors, blue and white. Peggy Blankinship and Phyllis Wooldridge were chosen for the May Court.

September of '52 found twenty-two pupils in the Sophomore room with Mrs. Wilson as our homeroom teacher again. We elected Freddie Keesee, president; Barbara Tweedy, vice-president; Lucy Dalton, secretary; Phyllis Wooldridge, treasurer; Louis Cowart, reporter and Peggy Blankinship, historian.

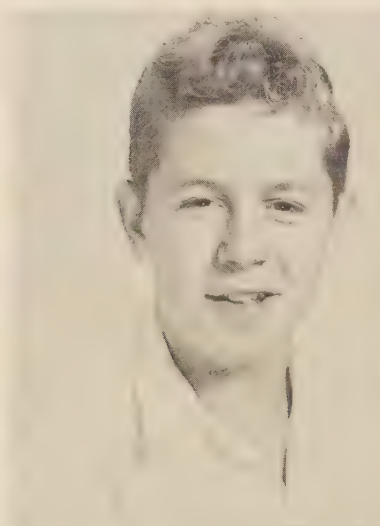

After many good times this year we are happily looking forward to becoming Juniors.

On September first, 1952, thirty-two pupils bounced into the Eighth Grade for the first time. We were not looking forward to the prospect of being the first class to attend Rustburg High School for twelve years. Our opinion changed quickly because we found there were many things for us to learn and do.

Shortly after the beginning of school we organized as a high school class. Our president was Ethel Leonard; vice-president, Betty Wright; secretary and treasurer, Gwen Keesee; and historian, Steve Thompson. We organized a hobby club, also.

The S. C. A. is an organization of which all high school students are members. Throughout each year this club carries on such projects as keeping the grounds clean, having patrolmen, keeping order in the lunch room, and providing recreation for the high school. The committees of the S. C. A. see that these projects are carried out. This year, with the aid of our advisor, Mrs. Martin, this organization has sponsored several square dances, a Valentine formal, and a May Day Formal.
